EXCITEMENT AT DADAR OVER HANUMAN JAYANTI CELEBRATIONS

Out Of The Gloaming.

"The abstention of the Honest Co-operators from the Joint Select Committee and from propaganda work in England will be welcome to the conspirators whose handiwork the White Paper is." That is F.P.J. celebrating on "Co-ordination and not Unity".

And yet there are Sir Puroshotamdas Thakurdas, Sir Pheroz Sethna and the whole bunch of co-operators making a bee-line for London. In what category does the F.P.J. class them? Early explanation is necessary to clear their character.

It would seem, the F.P.J. says, the members fall "into the category of Communists and Vested Interests, Adventurers and Honest Men, who believe in co-operation as a political creed". Such libels should not be passed unnoticed by the Cotton Magnate and its other friends.

The "Times of India" has already tried the Moscow accused and as usual comes to the only decision in the case of 100 per cent. Britishers. Here is the final summing up: "As for the real offence for which the arrests were made, not one shred of evidence seems to be available."

Perhaps not at Bori. Nor one shred of sense either.

It is to impress upon the Soviet the "need of a fair trial" that the present Bill has been passed. We are told. The "fair trial" has already been held at Bori Bunder and the verdict pronounced. So what need for the Bill.

Mr. Churchill refuses to share the responsibility for the White Paper. But it still lives.

The Postmaster of Pune, in shorts, "holding a rifle in his hand" appeared directing the peons to hurry up. That was for the talkie for exhibition in England. Thus history is made and recorded in India—for British consumption.

"1931 Cawnpore Riot Echo—Three Hindus let off on Appeal" read two newspaper headlines. The echo must have been reverberating for rather a long time. And yet there are people who clamour because the Moscow accused are kept in jail for a few weeks.

Lord Ponsonby said in the Lords: "As long as men, particularly young men, are imprisoned for political offences, it is impossible to prepare appropriate soil for the seed to be sown." Well, there are two opinions about that.

Two famous Russian lawyers, we are told, have been selected for the defence of the Britishers arrested in Moscow. Who would have thought that there are actually lawyers in Russia where there is no law? They will be having judges next!

A grave problem of life in New Delhi is presented to the world by "Diana" who writes of the deings in the capital in the "Illustrated Weekly". This is nothing less than the hurry of the Princes to get away from the place instead of making a prolonged stay for the benefit of the Dianas and Planas who like a bit of fun.

They came and showed their flags, but as soon as the proceedings of the Chamber were over they "hurried back to their State".

"The golden and brightly coloured flags..... The regal motor cars, the beautiful vehicles in which their Highnesses are accustomed to roll along in our midst have disappeared."

Well, we thought they didn't

NAZIS HUNT FOR COMMUNISTS

Over Hundred Arrests In Breslau

2 KILLED AT TAVERN SCUFFLE: ANTI-MARXIST BATTLESONG DOES IT

(Special Cable).

BRESLAU, April 8.

Over hundred including leading communists have been arrested in house-to-house searches carried out by several thousand Nazi storm troops.

The searches followed affray in a tavern over the singing of anti-marxist battle-song "Horst Wessel" in which two were killed and two wounded and police claim to have established that Communists were trying to re-organise in Breslau and preparing to establish "terror groups".

Many weapons were confiscated during the raids.

JOINT COMMITTEE TO MEET WEDNESDAY

LONDON, April 9.

According to the "Sunday Times" the Joint Select Committee expects to hold its preliminary meeting on Wednesday when it will appoint a Chairman who will be selected by the Committee from its own members. It is understood that Chairman will not be a member of the Government.

The Committee will also consider procedure and then adjourn until after Easter.—Reuter.

stay long enough to make a custom of anything. But no matter. To proceed with the lament of the fair Diana.

"Hurried, that is the word. They all seem to bustle away at the very earliest moment they can. Is it that they dislike New Delhi? Is it that they cannot stay away from their princely duties at the head of their administrations?"

Diana "cannot solve the why and wherefore of the enthusiasm with which the Princes dash in and out for their Chamber meetings and stay for as short a time as possible."

Perhaps there are too many Dianas hanging about. It sounds as if she'd be enough to frighten a Khan Bahadur, let alone a Prince!

Teacher (in geography lesson)—"Now can anybody tell me where we find mangoes?" Knowing Little Boy—"Yes, miss, wherever woman goes."

NO JEWS AS CIVILIANS

Germany Governed By Aryans In Principle?

WHAT NEW LAW MEANS

Thousands Of Officers Will Be Dismissed From State Service

BERLIN, April 8.

Provision that in principle Germany is governed only by Aryans is contained in the new civil service law, by which Jews are completely barred from entering civil service.

Thousands of officials left over from the previous regime will be dismissed and only the few Jews allowed to remain will be those who were already in the service of state on 1st August 1914 or who served in the trenches of Great War or whose fathers and sons served in battle for Germany. Officials will be considered Jewish if one of their four grand-parents was Jew.

"Party-book Officials" namely all civil servants who obtained office since 1918 on the basis of membership of political party but without the necessary technical qualifications will also be dismissed without pension after a payment of three months salary. Reuter's Special.

National Congress League Of London Is Sure Congress Is Not Dead, And Affirms No One Else Will Solve Indian Problem

LONDON, April 8.

The National Congress League has made a statement signed by Mr. Fenner Brockway and members of the House of Commons Messrs. James Maxton, Buchanan, Walhead, McGovern and four others expressing the opinion that the White Paper following the 1917 declaration and the Simon Commission indicates that Britain is not prepared to concede any substantial power to India.

The statement denies that the Congress Movement is dead and affirms that the Indian problem cannot be solved either by the Government's or the Labour Party's policy.—Reuter.

BRITISH LIGHT CAR SUPREMACY

Triumphant Vindication In Italy's Motor Event

(SPECIAL CABLE).

ROME, April 9.

The supremacy of British light car has been triumphantly vindicated in Italy's thousand mile road race, world's longest and most perilous motor event from Brescia via Florence to Rome and back via Adriatic coast.

The first two places in 1100 cc. class have been taken by British 12-horse-power M.G. Magnettes driven by Captain Eyston and Lord Howe respectively.

Omical results are not yet available but the winner, it appears is certain to be Italian Nuvolari in Alfa Romeo who completed the course in 15 hours 11 minutes and 50 seconds with an average speed of 67 point 46 miles per hour.—Reuter.

WAS IT NATURAL DEATH OR MURDER?

French Police Busy With Col. Hennessy's Death

(SPECIAL CABLE).

AIXEN PROVENCE, April 9. French Police are enquiring into the circumstances of the death of Colonel Hennessy following the allegations of murder by a person unknown, made by the deceased's son. Autopsy will be performed.—Reuter.

(A Reuter message from Paris dated 30th March stated:—

Col. I. P. C. Hennessy, C. M. G., retired Army Officer, who was living at Saint Mayo, was found, after an all day search, in the middle of a thicket in Foothills where he had been walking. The death was due to natural causes.)

PROCESSION AND BHAJAN PARTIES BANNED

Temple Guarded By Armed Police

HINDUS ARE EXCITED OVER BAN AND RUMOURS OF IMPENDING TROUBLE ARE RIFE

Many people in Dadar were expecting communal trouble over the Hanuman Temple Jayanti celebrations on Sunday.

Last year, it will be remembered, the Hanuman Jayanti celebrations at Dadar were marked by serious communal disturbances and about 14 persons were injured. This year, however, the police took all possible precautions to avoid any trouble.

PROCESSION AND PARTIES BANNED.

By an order issued by the Commissioner of Police, the processions and bhajan parties which were to have started from the Hanuman Temple to-day were banned, and permission was given only for worship.

EFFORTS AT COMPROMISE FAIL.

This order was a result of the objection raised by the Muslims to music. Leaders of both the communities tried their best to arrive at a friendly compromise but their efforts were in vain.

TEMPLE STRONGLY GUARDED.

The Hanuman temple in question is strongly guarded by armed police and European officers who were however quite confident that there would be no trouble of any kind.

HINDUS EXCITED

The Hindu residents of Dadar however, are excited over the police ban, and rumours of impending trouble were thick in the city.

BAZAR GOSSIP.

Nothing untoward had happened up to the hour of going to press except an insistent telephonic message from somewhere which reported a serious trouble at Dadar, but which on investigations on the spot turned out no better than a bazar gossip.

Knots of people, were, however, to be seen at Dadar and Parei discussing the possibilities of a grave situation.

MUSLIM STABBED

Affray At Corner Of Grant Road

Private Enmity Is Believed To Be Cause

Nazar Jan Haji Mohamed, a Muslim aged 43, was assaulted near the Royal Talkies, at Corner of Grant Road, by five Muslims on Sunday evening at about 8-15 p.m.

Nazar, who had received a number of stab wounds on his body and was bleeding profusely, was removed to the J. J. Hospital where he made a statement saying that he knew three of his assailants by name and two by sight.

The cause of the stabbing is said to be due to some private quarrel between the assailants and the assaulted.

Police investigations are proceeding in the matter.

STAGE SET FOR MOSCOW TRIAL

18 Persons Handed Over Copies Of Indictment

SECRECY BY SOVIET

Redecoration Of "October Hall" Where Trial Begins On Wednesday

MOSCOW, April 9.

Copies of indictment of 77 pages, containing charges against 18 persons were handed, to-day, to the accused who are charged with "wreckage of the electric power plant."

The accused, have given promise not to divulge contents of the indictment, which is handled with greatest secrecy by the Soviet.

The Public Prosecutor submitted the case before the Supreme Court, and announced that the trial would begin at noon on Wednesday. The five Britishers who are on bail visited the Embassy this morning, and conversed with Mr. Turner, solicitor for the Metropolitan Vickers, who will act as observer counsel during the trial without participating.

Meanwhile the Soviet is making feverish preparations to re-furnish and redecorate the "October Hall" of the Trades Union House, where the trial will be held. The room is being hung with crystal chandeliers, expensive damask and all trappings of Czaret days, when it was the "Blue Room" of the Noblemen's Club. The room is now the meeting place for workers.—Reuter.

Sir Austen On Commons Debate And Moscow Arrests

RUGBY, April 8.

Sir Austen Chamberlain in a speech at Birmingham last night referring to Moscow arrests said he hoped that strong feeling expressed during the debate in the Commons had brought home to the Soviet Government the condition on which alone it was possible to maintain friendly relations, or for British citizens to trade with them and so contribute to their prosperity as well as our own.

SITUATION IN GERMANY. Alluding to the situation in Germany he said that the utterances of men in authority there, revealed the spirit, which we hoped had departed from world. He asked German Government to consider the impression which their attitude regarding religious persecution must give to the world.

Germany, he added, met her fate because in her overwhelming pride and egocentric vanity she was not willing to allow other people to live as they wished, and was determined to dominate and impose her will in internal affairs with same spirit and at the moment when at the Disarmament Conference Germany was asking for equality of rights and of status, other powers had expressed their willingness to grant that equality of status.

TREATY REVISION. Referring to the demand for Treaty revision, he said, "Before you can revise those treaties, you must be quite certain that a genuine spirit has departed from Germans. Before we can enter to their level of armaments, we must be sure that they seek equality for their own security and to maintain peace and not to threaten security of other nations.—B. O. W.

MEERUT, April 8.

A great sensation was created in the Court of Sessions Judge, when some persons who were being tried for dacoities and murder, suddenly broke the dock railings and attacked the police guard.

Chairs were also used by the accused and about two or three constables were injured. The police sergeant fired a shot and with the help of the Sub-Inspector in-charge of the Police Guard and other constables the prisoners were overpowered.

The Superintendent of Police arrived on the scene soon and the prisoners were immediately removed to the jail.—A.P.

Last year, the investments experienced heavy depreciation owing to the market value of Government Securities falling to a level unheard of before, and the Directors had to provide an investment reserve fund of Rs. 1,49,572 to cover the depreciation in full. In 1932 all Government securities have materially appreciated once again as anticipated, and the entire depreciation provided by the Directors have been fully recovered. The fluctuations in Government Securities do not affect the position or the interest earnings of the Company, as all investments are made only to earn safe interest and not for manipulation or business purposes. SAFETY FIRST.

The investment policy is conservative, but in keeping with the principle of safety first rather than aiming at a higher margin of interest usually obtainable from stocks and shares of limited liability companies or from land mortgages both of which are fraught with danger.

CLAIMS. The Directors state that full provision had been made in the account for claims by death and matured policies received in the year. The claims paid during the year amounted to Rs. 1,20,150. The total payment to policy holders and their heirs since the establishment of the company now exceeds Rs. 7,00,000.

DEPRESSION TELLS.

The report concludes by saying, "Business conditions throughout the year have been abnormal, and same as that experienced in 1920 and 1931. General trade has been bad and the economic distress greater, both an account of retrenchment and reductions and heavier taxation coupled with higher cost of living. This has materially reflected in the increase in applications for loans and surrender values on existing policies which are far in excess of those received during normal years."

Two Ceylon Boxers, Thajudeen, the Fly-weight champion of Ceylon and Vincent Perera, Light-weight champion of F.M.S. left Ceylon on April 4 accompanied by Mr. Chas de Alwis, the Ceylon Promoter. Thajudeen is fixed up to fight the best Fly Bantam-weights in Malaya. After finishing off his programme in Singapore, Kuala Lumpur, and Penang, Thajudeen will proceed to Saigon in French-Indo-China and then to Philippine Islands accompanied by Mr. Alwis, while Vincent Perera may return to the island soon after his engagements in Malaya.

Remove film before teeth decay

Film is the enemy of teeth—one of the chief causes of decay. Fight it with this special film-removing tooth paste.

If you were to allow your teeth to go even one day without brushing them, a coating of film would form and hide their natural brilliance. Your teeth would become dull and unattractive. You could easily see this ugly coating by looking into the mirror or feel it by rubbing your tongue over your teeth.

The new cleansing and polishing material in Pepsodent Tooth Paste gently removes this film and reveals the clean enamel surfaces of your teeth. Besides removing this dull coating, Pepsodent polishes teeth to a sparkling brilliance. It does these two things with perfect safety because its cleansing and polishing material is soft—yes, twice as soft—as that ordinarily used in tooth pastes. Start using Pepsodent Tooth Paste today.

Pepsodent

Use Pepsodent Tooth Paste twice a day—see your dentist at least twice a year

"MAHATMA" OF CUTCH

C. P. M. Holds No Jurisdiction In Insurance Fraud Case

OTHER ACCUSED ALL ACQUITTED

Company's Agent Had No Part In Alleged Conspiracy

The Chief Presidency Magistrate delivered judgment on Saturday in the case in which (1) Motilal Rajvi alias Mahatma of Cutch, (2) Chandulal Tribhondas Shah (3) Hargovind Sukhlal Shah and (4) Jadavji Khimji, were charged with attempting to cheat the Manufacturers Life Insurance Co. in respect of Dollars 25,000.

The facts of the case as stated by Mr. Thanawalla Police Prosecutor were that they conspired together to cheat the Manufacturers Life Insurance Co. by insuring the life of one K. N. Popat who was suffering from consumption and died about a month after his insurance was accepted by the company. It appeared that in September 1931, accused No. 1 (Motilal Rajvi) alias "Mahatma of Cutch" got a healthy man examined by Dr. Shah at Wadhwan, representing him to be K. N. Popat and delivered the Proposal as well as the Medical Forms duly completed to accused No. 2 for producing them before the company. After a month or so the claim was made for 25,000 Dollars, when the Company got suspicious and instituted inquiries in the matter.

2ND ACCUSED INNOCENT.

Accused No. 2 in his Statement said that he was the agent of the Manufacturers Life Insurance Co. He came in association with accused No. 1 in Karachi Consulate where he was known as "Mahatma of Cutch". In September 1931 accused No. 1 invited No. 2 to Cutch saying that there is every possibility of securing a good insurance business. In reply to this invitation accused No. 2 went to Cutch but accused No. 1 told him that the prospective insurers now refused to get their lives insured. Hearing this No. 2 returned to Kathiawar but on his way he was stopped by a telegram from accused No. 1 stating that he was coming with one insurance applicant. Accused No. 1 with the said applicant met accused No. 2 at Wadhwan. Accused No. 1 got the man examined by Dr. Shah (who afterwards committed suicide) and gave accused No. 2 the necessary forms duly filled in with the Medical Report which were submitted to the company by accused No. 2.

Taking note of the sides into consideration His worship held that accused No. 2 was totally innocent because he did not know K. N. Popat. He accused No. 2 was in anyway associated in this conspiracy there was no necessity of this sort of farcical Medical Examination. There was every possibility of accused No. 1 having substituted somebody else in the place of the real K. N. Popat. His worship discharged accused No. 2 finding him innocent.

NO JURISDICTION.

With regard to the first accused His worship held that, although there was sufficient evidence to frame a charge against him, he discharged him also as the conspiracy to cheat the company had taken place at Cutch which was beyond his jurisdiction.

BOMBAY HAS DAY OF ACCIDENTS

Tram-Lorry Crash, Fatal Fall From House, Opium Poisoning And Head Smashed By Train

There was a collision between a Motor Lorry and a tram car on Sunday noon on the Hornby Road. When a lorry, which was crossing the road from the right to the left, was given a violent push by a tram car, which was also proceeding in the same direction as the lorry. The lorry fell on its side and one of the occupants, who got slight injuries, was treated in the G. T. Hospital and allowed to go.

It appears that at about 12 noon, lorry No. 155 Y, which was loaded with furniture and going towards Borli Bunder tried to cross from the right to the left of the Hornby Road, when the driver of the lorry noticed a Municipal lorry coming from the Borli Bunder side. To avoid a collision with the Municipal lorry, the driver of No. 155 suddenly swerved to the left, not noticing a tram car which was proceeding towards a considerable speed towards Borli Bunder. Just in front of the Parsi Fire Temple, the tram car dashed against the lorry, which was pushed a few feet ahead and fell on its side. The lorry cleaner, who was sitting in the lorry received slight injuries on his hands and head. He was removed to the Hospital, where he was treated and allowed to go.

WHY PEOPLE EAT CARRION

Mahatma Poses Question And Deshmukh Answers

NO CHEMICAL DIFFERENCE

Decomposing Meat Regarded As Luxury By Europeans Says Distinguished Doctor

Mahatma Gandhi, in a letter to Dr. G. V. Deshmukh with regard to slaughtered meat and carrion, asked among others the following questions:

"Dear Dr. Deshmukh, (1) Is there any chemical or physiological distinction between carrion and slaughtered meat? If there is, what is it?

(2) Do you know of any medical reason for the great repugnance that even meat-eaters have against carrion?

(3) If you are of opinion that there is a difference between fresh carrion and slaughtered meat, can you say whether flesh of dead cattle treated two or three days after death or even 24 hours after death would make any difference?

DR. DESHMUKH'S REPLY.
Dr. Deshmukh, in the course of his reply to the above queries, states:—

Dear Mahatmaj,
Between carrion of a healthy animal and slaughtered meat there is no chemical or physiological difference. I know this will come as a surprise to many, as the popular opinion is that there should be a difference, but from the scientific as well as medical point of view, there is none.

In the slaughter of animals, the animal bleeds and, nearly all the blood being drained away, the slaughtered meat contains less blood. In the case of carrion, all the blood remains in the tissues of the animal and consequently the meat contains more blood.

Decomposition sets in in every dead animal, whether killed or dead naturally. This decomposition is liable to set in earlier in moist tissues and tissues containing more blood. The carrion, therefore, is liable to decompose earlier than slaughtered meat.

DIFFERENCE VANISHES.
If the meat—whether carrion or slaughtered—is eaten before the decomposition sets in, it will be seen that this difference, between the two vanishes at this stage. The larger quantity of blood in carrion might even be to the taste of certain type of people.

You might possibly think that meat, when it starts decomposing is universally rejected by human beings as food. It is not only the depressed classes of our country who partake of decomposing meat, but this practice is not uncommon in other parts of the world. Gypsies in Europe have been known to be fond of this practice; they go to the extent of even disintering the dead carcasses of buried animals for food purposes. Decomposing fish is estimated to be an article of diet of more than three hundred millions of human beings in the world. It is not even a matter of poverty or ignorance. Certain persons of superior taste make a point of decomposing meat before eating to pander to their epicurean taste.

DISEASED MEAT.
But all this is in the case of healthy animals. This cannot hold good in the case of diseased animals. Many epidemics of meat poisoning have occurred in the West which have been proved to be due to eating of meat from diseased animals and the diseases in animals which lead to poisoning are not the prominent diseases in cattle which kill them, such as "Anthrax", and "Glanders", but common, pus-producing diseases which do not attract so much attention in life. Hence the necessity of meat inspection in all civilised countries. In Indian villages where this practice of eating carcasses is more common, it will be seen how dangerous this practice is likely to be, on account of animal dying of diseases to which no importance is attached but which are particularly dangerous to human beings.

I do not believe in the economic reason of eating dead carcasses. After all, in villages, animals do not die daily and the carrion forms a very insignificant part of the supply of food—an occasional variety or luxury if it can be so called. Besides, the lower labouring classes in villages are in no better position economically than the depressed classes, and yet they can do without eating carrion.

NOT SO WHOLESOME.

On account of the excess of blood in carrion, carrion not only decomposes earlier but is also difficult to preserve. Decomposition is liable to set in earlier than even 24 hours in a hot climate like ours. So, although treated, carrion meat is not so wholesome as slaughtered meat as food.

difficult to preserve. Decomposition is liable to set in earlier than even 24 hours in a hot climate like ours. So, although treated, carrion meat is not so wholesome as slaughtered meat as food.

CAUSE OF REPUGNANCE

I now come to the most difficult of your questions as to why there is such repugnance against those who eat carrion. That there is such a feeling of repugnance, not only in India but all the world over, cannot be denied. Logically, if there is not much difference between the carrion of a healthy animal and slaughtered meat, such repugnance should not exist; and if the repugnance is to exist, it should then extend to all meat eaters.

The answer to this question might have been difficult before the advent of the science of Analytical Psychology of Freud and Jung. In the light of this science an adequate explanation can be given. The explanation lies in the fundamental property of the human mind of Displacement and Transference (Verdrangung and Verschiebung).

Everything which is not killed but dead, decomposing and putrefying excites a feeling of fright, aversion or repugnance in the human mind. This instinct of repugnance is as necessary for Race Preservation as other instincts; otherwise, this human animal would have died of dirt long ago and have been extinct by now.

If the dead carcass instead is used for food or illumination, which is one of the two fundamental necessities of life, it can be imagined why so much loathing is attached to the practice.

IS NOT WORKING COMMITTEE UNLAWFUL?

Haig Defends Ban on Calcutta Session

CONGRESS HAD NO INTENTION TO DISCUSS WHITE PAPER, HE ARGUES STILL

Replying to the debate in the Legislative Assembly recently on motion of adjournment moved by Mr. Lalchand Navaraj to draw attention to Government action in banning Calcutta Session of Congress and arrest of persons who were going to attend the Session, the Hon. Sir Harry Haig (Home Member) said:—

Sir, before I come to the more direct issues raised by this motion, I may perhaps, with your permission, be allowed to clear up a point, which though it may bear more directly on the Resolution under discussion in the earlier part of the day, has received a great deal of prominence during this discussion.

WHAT IS INDEPENDENCE?

I refer to the question of independence. I am sure my friends opposite did not intentionally misrepresent the scope of my argument, but I would like to point out to them that my argument in the previous debate was that it was said that by releasing the Congress prisoners we should promote a policy of constitutional co-operation, and I merely pointed out that apparently the policy of the Congress as regards the constitution was one of the complete independence, and that appeared to me not to be consistent with any very useful co-operation in the constitutional deliberations. I did not go further than that. I did not say that the repudiation of this was a necessary preliminary to their release. Hon. Members opposite have enlarged at some length on the meaning of independence and have assured me that independence does not mean what one naturally supposes it to mean. That it is not a question of severing the connection with Great Britain, and in fact my friend Mr. Ranga Iyer in the torrent of his language, I think, explained that independence meant inter-dependence. Well, I am prepared to leave the matter at that.

IS IT POLITICALLY EXPEDIENT?

Now, coming on to the real case which the Government have to meet in reply to this motion, I think that I may say that it was argued and put before the House in a most reasonable way by my friend the Leader of the Independent Party and by my friend the Leader of the Nationalist Party. I think the main case that they really put before the House is: Is it politically expedient at this time to ban the Congress? I fully realise the weight of that argument. We were not anxious, Sir, to ban the Congress. We do not go about banging our drums and patting ourselves on the chest and thinking that we are very strong men and that therefore we are acquiring a certain merit. That is not the attitude of Government. The Government were forced into this action by a certain chain of events. Hon. Members naturally concentrate their attention on what is happening at the present moment. But every event has a chain of events leading up to it and it is that chain of events that I wish to deal with this evening.

CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE MUST STOP

Briefly, our reasons for not allowing the Congress session were these. The Congress, as I have said before, stands pledged to civil disobedience. It stands for an unlawful movement and its activities are directed to unlawful ends. The civil disobedience movement may be languishing, but it is still in existence and it is still the avowed policy of the Congress. The holding of the Congress session, as Hon. gentlemen opposite are well aware, is always a spectacular occasion. The preparations for the holding of the annual session of the Congress usually occupy a month or six weeks. During that period every kind of means is used—and perfectly legitimately used in normal times—for advertising the strength of the Congress as an organisation and popularising its policy.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR CONGRESS

Now, Sir, if under the present conditions when the policy of the Congress is one of civil disobedience that long period of preparation and advertisement were permitted by Government what would be the effect on the civil disobedience movement and on the minds of the people of this country? I do not think there can be any doubt that a permission to hold the annual session of the Congress this year would have served to stimulate the Congress movement and therefore the civil disobedience movement at a time when it is beginning to languish, and that it would have given rise to vain hopes in Congress quarters and unfounded fears among those who support the policy of the Government, that the Government were contemplating some change in their attitude towards civil disobedience.

Sir Abdul Rahim: May I put one question? Why did not the Government then declare the Congress to be an unlawful association if it was identified with civil disobedience so much?

ACTION BEYOND REQUIREMENTS

Sir Harry Haig: I will come to that in a moment. My Hon. friend asks, why did Government not declare the Congress to be an unlawful body. As I have explained before in this House, the Government are never anxious to do more than the circumstances of the case require. In their judgment, it was quite unnecessary for the purpose of dealing with the civil disobedience movement to declare the Indian National Congress to be an unlawful association. Such action would have gone far beyond the requirements of the case. It would have rendered liable to prosecution and imprisonment a number of persons who were actually members of the Congress but not active members of the Congress and not really anxious to pursue the civil disobedience movement. But I would like to make this point clear. The Congress cannot expect to lend its name, its authority and its resources to an unlawful movement and at the same time to retain all its privileges as a constitutional body. This is again the demand that is being made by the Congress. We pursue our lawful movement, at the same time we claim to hold our annual session, as if there were no unlawful movement in progress."

Now, Sir, it has been said that the Congress might possibly if it had been allowed to meet might have been ready to change its programme. I do not know that Hon. Members who have made that suggestion have really any ground of substance on which it is based. But if we had had any clear assurance that the object of the Congress session was to call off the civil disobedience movement the position might have been different. There was no kind of suggestion. Sir, of such an assurance.

I would go further and say that that. I quite admit that (Continued on page 8.)

IS DR. SOLANKI DEPRESSED?

Deorukhkar Challenges His Claim For Reserved Seat On Schools Committee

Mr. B. J. Deorukhkar, a member of the "Depressed Class" Community of Bombay in the following letter addressed to the Mayor challenges Dr. Solanki's right to style himself as a member of the "Depressed Class" and also his claim for a reserved seat on the Schools Committee.

The Schools Committee election will take place to-day after the Mayoral Election, and Mr. Deorukhkar is contesting the seat as non-councillor.

The following is the text of the letter:—

Regarding the election of members of the Schools Committee for the ensuing year, I take the liberty of bringing to your notice the following facts in connection with the proposed election of the Depressed Class Candidate for whom one seat is reserved on the Committee.

I understand that Dr. Solanki is standing for this seat. Dr. Solanki was according to his own admission a Christian baptised by the Rev. W. F. M. Hamerton Archdeacon of the Church at the St. Andrews Church at Agrpada on 11-4-1925. Subsequent to that date the said Dr. Solanki to suit his own convenience is professing himself a Prarthana Samajist to which creed, he says he subscribed seven months after his Baptism.

Assuming the facts as stated by Dr. Solanki to be correct he is either a Christian or a Samajist. Neither Christians or the Samajist recognises either caste system or Untouchability in any shape or form and therefore it is obvious that the said Dr. Solanki even according to his own admission can never be said to belong to the 'Depressed' Class.

Under the circumstances I beg to submit that Dr. Solanki is not eligible to the seat on the Committee reserved for the 'Depressed Classes'.

I the undersigned therefore as a member of the 'Depressed Class' Community of Bombay dispute and challenge the candidature of Dr. Solanki and offer myself to be elected to the said seat as a representative of the 'Depressed Class'.

I have already sent in my nomination paper.

CHALLENGE

Two cuttings from the newspapers and a list of the members of the Prarthana Samaj where is on Page 11 his name appear together with rules and bye-laws of the Bombay Prarthana Samaj, are forwarded herewith in proof of the facts stated above regarding the status and position of Dr. Solanki, which will leave no doubt in your mind that he has no claim whatsoever to represent the 'Depressed Classes' of Bombay.

ROME, April 9.

Interest here is centred on Mussolini-von Papen discussions, for which the latter arrived this morning and Captain Goering is due in the evening.

Conversations between two Fascist Powers are regarded as of utmost significance.

Herr von Papen will remain in Rome until 18th April to see the Pope.

Sgr. Mussolini will impress upon von Papen and Capt. Goering that while he supports the German claim for treaty revision he cannot tolerate force.

Von Papen's mission, however, is primarily to the Vatican, as he is the Papar Chamberlain, and he will find officials at the Vatican ready to meet him half-way when he reassures them regarding Herr von Hitler's attitude to Catholics. —Reuter.

LATE JAM SAHIB AS RULER

Made State Prosperous And Loved People

LALJI NARANJI'S TRIBUTE

Large-Hearted Ruler, and Great Sportsman, he Wanted to See His Subjects Happy.

Speaking on the resolutions of condolence at the public meeting of the subjects of the Jamnagar State, held on Saturday last at Mulji Jettha Cloth Market Hall under the presidency of Sheh Lajli Naranji.

Mr. Lajli Naranji speaking on the resolution said that he was in personal touch with the late Jamsahab and his heart was so filled with grief that he was unable to speak much more. He said his close relation with him showed to him that the Jamsahab was a virtuous man. He was trying hard to carry out all he considered to be his duty. He fell ill on the 28th March and he expired on the 2nd April 1933. During his sickness he was all the time conscious except for the last two hours. He was much depressed by the last incident at Delhi. He felt he would not now recover and hence he informed his relatives and friends not to take much trouble for him. His last words were that he was going to eternal peace.

He had always at heart to make his kingdom prosperous as well as to see his subjects happy and progressing. He was a large-hearted man and a great sportsman. When the Davidson Committee visited Jamnagar State he invited the chairman of the said Committee to visit any village of his State and compare the condition with that of any one of British India and added that he would come to know which was happier. And the Committee reported that the ryots of Jamnagar were in better economic condition than others.

His greatest work was the development of the Port Bedi and thus he made Jamnagar famous in the world. He was much interested to see his subjects advanced in trade and industry and he was striving in that direction. Speaking about the misunderstanding created by the circulation of rumour that he usurped the right of others, Mr. Lajli Naranji said that it was quite incorrect and that he was the right heir to the throne. He added that it was unnecessary for him to speak more about it since it has been confirmed by the State announcement and through newspapers. He ruled for 26 years. In that duration he made the State more and more prosperous and that they will very shortly hear that the State is in the same strong monetary position. His loss was not only that of the subjects of Jamnagar and the people of Kathiawar, but the whole of India, which can be seen from condolence messages received from all quarters. He has earned reputation not only in India but all over the world.

MR. HARJIVAN VALJI.

Mr. Harjivan Valji, seconding the resolution said that the late Jamsahab treated his subjects as his own children. He was a great worker. Mr. Vithaldas Damodar Govindji further supporting the resolution said that the late Jamsahab was of quite independent nature which could be seen from the recent incident at Delhi with Lord Willingdon who was his intimate friend. He was impartial towards all his subjects and consequently there were no communal riot in his regime. Dr. Pranjivandas M. Mehta said that the Jamsahab was a man was a great man. He was of supernatural personality. He had a good grasping power. He earned repute in the whole world as a cricketer when he was not a ruler. There he has shown his ability as a man. By his personal care and enthusiasm in all the departments of the State he has shown his ability as a ruler. Kashatriya blood was running in his veins which can be seen from his last incident with the Viceroy at Delhi. Let us all pray eternal peace for his soul and wish that the new Jamsahab may complete his unfinished achievements.

MR. MATHURADAS HARIBHAI.

Mr. Mathuradas Haribhai further supporting the resolution referred to his close relation with the late Jamsahab and said that he was a very generous and pious man. He was a brave warrior, but he was of so delicate heart that he could not even bear sight of a weeping man and if any criminal may go before him and weep confessing his fault, he would not only pardon him but admit him in State service.

YOUNG WIFE'S SAD END

Sets Sari Ablaze To Commit Suicide

DIES IN HOSPITAL

Alleged Ill-Treatment By Mother-in-Law

At 5-30 p.m. on Sunday evening, a gentleman passing along Kharavel Road, saw smoke coming out of a room on the second floor of Kedarnath Building in Gaiwadi and brought it to the notice of the tenants, who immediately raised an alarm and ran up to find out the cause.

On investigations being made, it was discovered that the room from which the smoke emanated was closed and bolted from inside. The neighbours, therefore, broke open the door and discovered Darsanabai Mahavirprasad, a young girl aged 18 lying on the ground with her sari ablaze. The fire brigades and rescue parties arrived on the spot and put out the flames, and sent the girl to G. T. Hospital for treatment.

The victim, whose name is Darsanabai Mahavirprasad, is a Hindu and married and lived with her husband and mother-in-law.

In a statement made to a police constable in the hospital Darsanabai is reported to have said that she was being ill-treated by her mother-in-law, and that getting disgusted she had attempted to put an end to her life, by pouring kerosine oil on her sari and setting fire to it.

Darsanabai succumbed to her burns soon after admission into hospital.

200 ARMED MEN MOBILISE

Scene In Front Of Ahmedabad Mill

AHMEDABAD, April 9.

About 200 men armed with lathis and dharis gathered to-day in front of the Industrial Mill and threatened those who would give evidence against a person who has been arrested in connection with the recent alleged murder of a Mahomedan operative in Lal Mills.

An armed police party from headquarters soon rushed to the spot whereupon the men dispersed.

Police enquiry is proceeding. —A.P.

P. C. WHO DID NOT RISK BULLDOG

When Reginald C. Davey, of Faversham, Kent, was fined 10s. at Canterbury for causing an obstruction with a car, in mail week, P. C. Eade said that he went to move the car and found a bulldog in charge.

"I had to wait for an hour for the owner to return," he said, "I was not going to risk that bulldog."

There were many such instances.

Mr. Tulsidas Pranjivandas, Mr. Amritlal G. Mehta, Mr. Maganlal Jagjivan, Mr. Motilal Bavabhai all of the Jamnagar Praja Mandal supported the resolution.

Speaking on the subject Mr. Motilal Bavabhai said that many demands were put before the late Jamsahab and some of them might have been accepted and some might not be; yet we must say that he was treating the subjects with a paternal love.

His death had caused irreparable loss to the Jamnagar subjects.

Mr. Amritlal C. Mehta said that formerly he had described the late Jamsahab as an autocrat but since his treatment towards us after hearing them patiently, they had found that they were under wrong delusion.

Mr. Tulsidas Pranjivandas said that they were considered as rebels by the citizen of Jamnagar but he would state that the late Jamsahab was sympathetic with their demands, and the fact was that the late Jamsahab was encouraging them to continue such movements because he firmly believed that the real awakening was due to such movements. It was doubtless, that he had lived a little longer the subjects of Jamnagar would have obtained many rights. He had shown sympathy towards the demands and complaints of the Jamnagar Praja Parishad delegated in Bombay as well as in Jamnagar, and had also promised to give them his favourable consideration.

Mr. Lakhamidas Lalji Saraiya and others admitted the cleverness, ability, politics and other virtues of the late Jamsahab and supported the resolution.

CUSTOMS LOSE TO ST. PATRICK'S

Thrilling Semi-Final Battle In Aga Khan Tournery

It was only after a great struggle that the Bombay Customs lost to St. Patrick's in the semi final of the Aga Khan Hockey Tournament on Sunday. More than 8,000 spectators watched the game and the defeat of the cup holders was in the nature of a surprise. Karachi entered the field favourites of a large section of the crowd, and on the balance of play deserved to just about win.

I. Fernandes, was the main spring of St. Patrick's defence, and his dogged tackling was responsible for the failure of the Customs attack. There was an early sensation when Feroze Khan injured his eye in a tussle with J. Dias, who was warned by Mr. Hibbert. Blake made one clever clearance off a shot hit by Feroze Khan. Exchanges were even and both defences were tested in turn. Jagat Singh sprinted down the wing and looked likely to score but hit the side of the net. Milne and Pinto also threatened danger, which was averted by Blake in fine style. Tremendous excitement prevailed towards the close of the first half when Tells ran down the left wing and centred accurately. Aslam attempted to intercept the pass, but the ball rolled towards the line and was stopped in time by Cowton.

The score board was blank on resumption of play. Feroze Khan did not return for seven minutes because the injury to his eyebrow needed attention.

Karachi exerted considerable pressure and Pitcher proved troublesome to the Customs defence. Conlan came near to scoring for the local team, but Blake again rose to the occasion. An ideal pass to Tells from I. Fernandes set the Karachi line moving, and the left wing dashed into the circle to give G. Peretra a glorious opportunity of netting the winning goal. This success spurred Karachi on and Pitcher would have added the second but for a brilliant save on the part of Cowton. The Customs tried hard to equalise after this but Karachi emerged successfully from many difficult situations to win by the solitary goal scored.

even by the highly-placed military officers?

If so, will the Government kindly state the reason for such procedure and their attitude towards their loyal and faithful servants?

ARE THEY ALL MUSSALMANS?

Mr. B. N. Misra: Is it a fact that the Deputy Superintendent of Police, Kotwali, the Deputy Superintendent, C. I. D., and the Deputy Superintendent on Special Duty at Delhi are Muhammadans?

Is it also a fact that the Circle Inspector and the Sub-Inspector-in-Charge of Kotwali are also Muhammadans?

Are the Government aware of their general policy to avoid preponderance of one community in a department and also at a particular station?

Are the Government also aware that the population of Delhi and its suburbs mostly consists of Hindus and Muhammadans are much less in number?

Is it a fact that in spite of there being already two Muslim Deputy Superintendents of Police and many other Muslim Police officers in Delhi, another Muslim Deputy Superintendent of Police has very recently been brought in place of the only Hindu Deputy Superintendent of Police?

If the reply to part (a) be in the affirmative, was a Hindu or non-Muslim particularly asked for from the Punjab Government? If not, why not?

Mr. B. N. Misra: Are Government aware that meetings of Qadianis are held almost on every Friday and Sunday in the house of the Deputy Superintendent of Police, C. I. D. Delhi, who himself belongs to that sect and that all other religions are openly criticised in those meetings? If so, under what rule are these meetings allowed to be held in the house of a responsible police officer who is custodian of law and order?

SPARE MUSLIMS FROM AXE.

Maulvi Sayyid Murtuza Saheb Bahadur: Will the Government kindly state if they have seen the article "Muslim demand in Services—Government of India considering representation" published in the "Pioneer", dated the 22nd January, 1933, and whether they have since arrived at a definite conclusion regarding the question of sparing Muslim employees from retrenchment so that the policy of giving the Muslims a proper representation may not be defeated?

If the reply to part (a) be in the affirmative, are Government prepared to stand by their own words issued in the Department of Industries and Labour, Memo. No. G-63, dated the 24th September, 1931, which clearly lay down that the Department should refrain from taking action which affects adversely the position of minority communities in the process of retrenchment?

PROTECTOR OF HAJ PILGRIMS

Mr. Uppl Saheb Bahadur: Will the Government be pleased to state:

Who is the present Protector of Haj Pilgrims at Karachi?

What was he before he was appointed to this post; and

What is his present age?

Will Government be pleased to state whether they are aware that the present Protector of Haj Pilgrims at Karachi is not able to help the pilgrims owing to his old age and that the pilgrims suffer on account of his short temper?

If the reply to part (a) be in the negative, do Government propose to enquire into the matter and lay the information on the table of the House?

Will Government be pleased to state:

Whether they or the Haj Committee received any complaint regarding the situation of lavatory at Karachi Haj Camp that it is facing towards Kibla and that it is against the religious sentiments of Mussalmans?

If not, are Government prepared to enquire and find out whether the lavatories are situated as mentioned in part (a)?

If the answer to part (b) be in the affirmative, do Government propose to take steps to remedy the serious grievance of the Mussalmans; if not, why not?

CEYLON AND INDIAN GOODS.
Mr. S. G. Jog: Is it a fact that the Ceylon Government refused to give preference to goods such as cement, iron, steel and textiles?

BOMBAY'S SANITARY SHORT-COMINGS

ted in Calcutta? To make matters worse they now even come at night to disturb people. In the locality where I reside, hitherto a pretty quiet one at night, race-result-wallahs, race-tip sellers and others can be heard till well after midnight. Just now, a water-melon seller and a tea-hawker prowled about here and shout till 2 a.m. to the great annoyance of the residents.

Have the police no power to check this? Are the law-abiding citizens of Bombay not allowed a little quiet even at night?

THE BOM-GOLLAWALLAHS.

The number of these objectionable hawkers has been greatly increased of late by a new kind of nuisance—the Bom-gollawallahs—with handcarts and loud clanging bells. These people are to be seen all over the place now. They sell crushed ice, sweetened by coloured "sherberts", milk and other stuff. There does not appear to be any supervision over the stuff they sell. Yet, these are greedily consumed by school children and others.

One would like to know what supervision there is over the manufacture of the syrups and milk-preparation they sell, the ice they handle, and so forth.

The most annoying and objectionable part of this business is the intolerable noise these people create with the big bells they carry. They ring these all along, regardless of the noise they create. They ply their trade generally in the evenings, till very late at night. Often one is awakened at 1 or 2 in the night by this noise which makes one think that a fire engine is approaching.

DO POLICE KNOW?
Are the police aware of their existence and the nuisance they are? Does the Municipality know that cases of enteric fever in children have been traced to the consumption of filthy Bom-gollaws?

In our next article, we shall deal with the beggar question and hack victorias and the working of lame and disabled horses at night, bakers, barbers shop, eating houses, etc.

SCOUT SECRETARY FOR GENEVA

Bombay Comrades Bid Farewell To Mr. M. V. Venkateswaran

The Provincial Scout Headquarters of the Bombay Presidency presented a very lively appearance on Saturday evening when over 150 scouts trained in various camps by Mr. M. V. Venkateswaran foregathered to bid him farewell on the eve of his retirement from the Provincial Scout Secretaryship prior to taking on the post of the Officer in charge, League of Nations Indian Bureau. Sir Chunilal V. Mehta, the Provincial Commissioner, who presided over the function was received on arrival with the Principal guest of the evening with a salute by the band of the Sir Currimbhoy Khoja Orphanage, Matunga and taken over to the Scout Hut, which was very tastefully decorated for the function.

In presenting a farewell address to Mr. V. Venkateswaran the mount adventure troop referred to the splendid record of work which Mr. Venkateswaran had put in for scouting over a period of 17 years.

Mr. Venkateswaran in thanking the organisers of the function stated how the scout movement in India should stand for a unification of the country as a whole and how each member of the Mount Adventure troop had to be missionary in the great land.

present situation presents certain difficulties to the Congress organisation—but I do feel that the leaders of the Congress on this occasion deliberately forced the issue. It was not as if they did not know what the decision of the Government on this matter must be. They had the experience of last year before them. The House will remember that last year in April the Congress endeavoured to hold its annual session in Delhi and Government for exactly the same reasons as have influenced them on this occasion came to the conclusion that that session could not be held. The leaders of the Congress had taken no steps to ascertain whether the Government position was modified, and indeed under existing conditions it clearly could not be modified. They merely announced their intention of holding the session. Now, Sir, I would draw from that the conclusion that they were seeking to put the Government in a certain position of difficulty rather than trying to help to find a way out for themselves.

NO INTENTION TO DISCUSS WHITE PAPER.

It has been said a number of times in the course of this debate that the Congress were anxious to meet in order to discuss the White Paper. Again I do not know on what grounds this suggestion is made. It is not the Government case that they would have the slightest objection under ordinary conditions to the Congress or any other body in this country discussing the White Paper whether their verdict was favourable or unfavourable. I have explained to the House the

SWEEPER BOY SUCCUMBS TO INJURIES

Alleged Brutal Assault By Grocer's Brother And Servant

(From Our Correspondent.)
GHATKOPAR, April 9.
Over a paltry amount of money, a grocer's servant, it is alleged, brutally assaulted a sweeper boy last night at Bandra in front of a shop, opposite Parsi Agari. It is further alleged that the brother of the grocer, who came on the scene later, joined in beating the boy.

Situ Kesu, the victim, succumbed to the injuries sustained by him immediately after he was admitted into the local hospital. Mohanji Monshi, the servant, and Lalji Chapshi, the brother of the grocer, have been arrested by Sub-Inspector Sheth, attached to the Bandra Police Station, and detained in the lock-up.

Both the accused will be produced before Rao Bahadur Kulkarni, the City Magistrate, Bandra, on a charge of culpable homicide not amounting to murder under Section 304 of the Indian Penal Code.

It appears that when Situ went to the grocer's shop, the proprietor, Dongarshi Chapshi, had gone out on some errand. The boy, who had gone to purchase tea and sugar, was asked by the servant Mohanji to pay up the arrears before he could get a further supply. From words they came to blows. The brother of the grocer, in the meantime was sent for, who, it is alleged, joined in the attack, which resulted in the death of the boy within an hour.

LENT CONGREGATION TREATED WITH VIOLENT SERMONS

(From A Correspondent.)
JALGAON, April 8.

Ever since judgment was delivered by the Sub-Judge, Bhushaval, in the case in which a female teacher of the Local Roman Catholic School sued its manager, Rev. Sebastian Cotta, for damages for her wrongful dismissal, the Bhushaval Catholics are regularly treated with sermons from the pulpit containing attacks on justice, Government Officials and Free Masons.

An impression on the minds of the public is that the priest is making use of these holy lent days to justify his own action in dismissing the female teacher which has cost him Rs. 1,705.

WHO PAID FINE?

Seth Jamnadal Fails To Trace Friend Who Deposited Rs. 200

POONA, April 8.
Seth Jamnadal Bajaj, a former treasurer of the Congress, who was recently released from Bombay had yet more than two months to serve in lieu of his fine. Asked if his fine had been paid, Seth Jamnadal said that since his release he had been making inquiries and found that a sum of Rs. 250 had been deposited by someone before Mr. Khandalawala, Presidency Magistrate of Bombay, on the 3rd of April towards the unserved part of the fine. He had not been able to find who paid this till now.

Seth Jamnadal was sentenced last year to one year's rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 500, or in default, six months' further imprisonment.—A.P.

PUNJAB MINISTER WARNS MAJORITY COMMUNITY

"Hindus Would Be Joined By Other Minority Communities Against Your Vagaries And Aberrations"

LAHORE April 5. Asked by the Associated Press for his views on the White Paper Doctor Gokul Chand Narang Minister for Local Self-Government, declined to express any opinions "inter alia" for the reason that the paper had already been thoroughly discussed and leading men of all schools of thought had expressed their opinions on it and that it was too late in the day now to express any further opinions about it.

Asked whether there was any chance of the communal award being modified he said that it was still open to the various communities to come to an agreement and, as His Majesty's Government's award itself pointed out, it could still be modified in accordance with such agreement if one could be arrived at.

HINDUS HIT HARD.

Asked next as to effect the new constitution if framed in accordance with the communal award would have on the Hindus of the Punjab, he said that the Hindus had certainly been hit hard by the award in various ways. One of their grievances was that they had not got representation in the Punjab Council, as proposed, even according to their population in the province. If they had been given representation according to their population they would have got 3 1/2 not 4 additional seats. He, however, pointed out that there was no cause for despair. He expected that the majority community, when responsibility for good Government had been thrown on its shoulders might arise to the occasion and, in its own interest, conduct itself justly and fairly and, perhaps even sympathetically, towards the minority communities including the Hindus.

MAJORITY WARNED

If, however, the majority community, when it got power, did not behave properly and abused its power, it would drive the Hindus in sheer self-defence to organize themselves and offer a stubborn resistance to the vagaries and aberrations of the majority community. In this he had no doubt that the Hindus would be joined by the other minority communities such as the Sikhs, Christians and even Anglo-Indians and Europeans who must make common cause and prevent any high handedness and abuse of power on the part of the majority community.

The various safeguards such as they were which had been provided must also work to the advantage and protection of the minority communities. He believed that the Hindu community had always risen to the occasion and in spite of the vicissitudes through which it had passed had shown an elasticity and vitality which had always helped it to withstand tyranny and oppression. For centuries the Hindus had continued their struggle against bigotry, fanaticism and tyranny and had ultimately succeeded in overthrowing it. There was no reason why they should now lose heart and succumb. Great men had always risen among the Hindus from time to time who had infused new life into them and inspired them with a spirit which had triumphed over difficulties and hardships and there was no reason why what had happened in the past should not happen again. Though they were numerically weak they still possessed enormous economic advantages over the majority community.

WHAT THEY LACKED

The only thing they lacked was organisation and communal self-consciousness. Communal awakening was bound to take place when they were driven to the wall and with their economic advantages and other resources they had nothing to fear.

Doctor Narang, however, hoped that the majority community would display sufficient sense and would not conduct themselves in a manner which might create resentment and opposition not only among the Hindus of the Punjab, where they were in a minority but also a spirit of retaliation in the Provinces where they were in a majority.

Doctor Narang was full of hope and believed that if necessity arose, the Hindus would give a good account of themselves.—A. P.

WHAT C. P. MINISTER THINKS OF W. P.

(From Our Correspondent.)

AMRAOTI, April 6. Dr. P. S. Deshmukh, the Minister for education to the C. P. Government made a one day's halt here while returning from the Provincial Co-operative Conference held at Buldana. Regarding the White Paper he said that it put the responsibility at centre subject to the approval of the Princes to the scheme of Federation.

WANT RADICAL CHANGES IN W. P.

Punjab Indian Chamber Holds Divergent Interests Cannot Work

LAHORE, April 8. The following statement has been issued by the Executive Committee of the Indian Chamber of Commerce (Desi Bazar Mandal), Lahore, on the White Paper embodying proposals for the Indian Constitutional reforms:—

"The Committee of the Indian Chamber of Commerce, Lahore, have carefully read the White Paper and find that the two conditions—one of 30 per cent. Princes joining the Federation, and second of the Establishment of Reserve Bank before the introduction of those reforms are such that this is nothing but of placing an obstacle even to their introduction. The Federation of British Indian autonomous Provinces with the Indian Princes whose Governments and methods of administration, are same as those of seventeenth century, will create an association of queer nature. The representatives from the British Indian Provinces will be elected by the people and whereas the representatives from States will be nominated by the autocrat Princes.

SUPREME POWERS.

The people of the country are already crying hoarse against the Ordinance making powers of the Governor General but with the introduction of Reforms under the proposed constitution the Governor-General and all Governors will have similar powers the head of responsible Ministers and without their consent and thus there will be likelihood of suspension of constitution when there will be difference of opinion.

Although the provinces will be autonomous and there will be Dyaary in the Federal Government but the Imperial Services serving under the Ministers will not be responsible to the Ministers but to the Secretary of State for India.

The present Railway Board is constituted of those persons who have been trained in the Railway Administration alone but none of the members have any business knowledge enabling them to run the Railways on business principles. The decay in the Administration of the Railway Department is due to the fact that the officers have no business acumen.

WILL HAVE NO CONTROL.

The establishment of the Reserve Bank is a prerequisite of the proposed Federal Government and the conditions laid down in para 32 of the White Paper, are such that neither India shall be able to fulfill these conditions for some time nor the Federal Government will be established.

From the proposals for Financial Control it is evident that the control of two most important departments administering the Railways and Currency and Exchange will be entirely taken away from Ministers and what ever is left is so much overshadowed with safeguards that it will be impossible for the ministers to carry out the policy of the representatives of the people. About 70 per cent of the Financial resources will be alienated to the Reserved subjects Ecclesiastical services and on other Reserved subjects over which Federal Parliament will have control thus the position of the Finance Minister will be strange and difficult. Currency and Exchange Policy will be under the control of the Reserve Bank and the Financial Advisor to the Governor General and therefore Finance expenditure over which he will have no control.

CHANGES NECESSARY

No representation has been granted to commerce and industry in the Federal Legislature excepting one representation of the Northern India Commercial Bodies of the Punjab, Delhi and the U. P. presumably representing both Indian and Foreign interests.

The Committee of the Chamber of Commerce fail to understand how this grouping of divergent commercial interests will work? In conclusion the Committee of the Indian Chamber of Commerce opine that all the proposals in the White Paper are such which require radical changes after mutual consideration by all concerned.—A. P. IT IS TIME WE CAST OFF OUR COMMUNAL PREJUDICES

Chandavarkar Explains What Bombay Conciliation Committee Did During Communal Riots And New Mayor Becomes President

The need for educated Indians to cease thinking in terms of communities and to acquire a strong sense of citizenship to work for the good of the city as a whole was emphasised by Mr. V. N. Chandavarkar, the Mayor of Bombay, presiding over the second annual general meeting of the Bombay Citizens' Conciliation Committee held in the Corporation Hall on Saturday evening.

COMMITTEE'S ACHIEVEMENTS.

Mr. Meyer Nisam moved the adoption of the annual report which, he said, reproduced in a nutshell the work done by the Committee during the troublesome and anxious times the city passed through last year. The most important and useful work done by the Committee, was, in his opinion, the establishment of Ward Committees composed of influential men in each locality, and these Committees had rendered useful service during the communal stress last year. He paid a tribute to the Mayor and Mr. M. C. Chagla, Secretary, for their ceaseless efforts to bring about communal peace, and said that this had not been referred to in the report.

Mr. B. N. Karanjia seconded the adoption of the report.

ADVANTAGES OF SINGLE BODY.

The Chairman in the course of his speech said that the work of bringing about peace in times of stress would be very much facilitated if there was only one organisation in the whole city, which could act as a "laison" body between the Government and the people. A single body alone should deal with matters such as putting forward grievances of the people before the authorities, affording relief and bringing about conciliation. During the last riots a large number of local organisations worked in this connection with the result that the police could not listen to the Conciliation Committee alone and matters could not be disposed of expeditiously. If the Citizens' Conciliation Committee was the only authorised body in the field a lot of time could be saved and the grievances of the people would be properly remedied.

STOP THINKING IN COMMUNAL TERMS.

The speaker paid a tribute to Sir Patrick Kelly, the Police Commissioner, who he said always gave the Committee a patient and courteous hearing and generally carried out the suggestions made to him. He also thanked the Governor of Bombay who evinced a good deal of interest in the work done by the Committee to restore peace. In conclusion he asked every Indian to cease thinking in terms of communities and to develop a strong sense of citizenship which alone could stamp out communal outbreaks.

The report was then read, it says—

In presenting their report, the Executive Committee have to refer to the contrast with which the unhappy events of the year 1932-33 stand marked out when compared with the peaceful relations existing between the two principal communities of the city during the previous year, when the general body of members of the Committee deliberated over the working of the Committee during the year 1931-32 at their Annual Meeting held on 1st April 1932, and felt the inner satisfaction over the record of peaceful relations and harmony between the two communities; they certainly did not expect that within a short interval of not more than two months after their deliberations they would be called upon to devote their full time and energy towards the effective solution of the situation created by a mighty conflagration between the two communities.

THAT ILL-FATED DAY.

But as the ill-fate of the city would have it within a short period of six weeks after the annual general meeting of the Committee many of the most important localities of the city were converted into small battle-ground, where the "mavallis" reigned supreme; the afternoon of the 14th May—that fateful Saturday—marked the beginning of the grave communal warfare that raged throughout the important business localities and residential quarters in the city in the days that followed. As the reports go, a petty quarrel that arose in a small shop in Barbhaya Mohalla on that afternoon was the cause of the serious disturbances; this small incident brought into play the dangerous forces of communal passion and hatred and turned the city into a veritable inferno of communal rage and resulted in the end in the death of hundreds of innocent citizens and injury to more than a thousand others.

As soon as the communal riot broke out, an emergent meeting of the whole body of members, was called to consider the situation and to devise ways and means of effectively dealing with that serious situation and to restore communal peace in the city. There was a good response to the invitations sent out through the press and a majority of members attended the meeting and assisted the Committee in their deliberations. From the views and opinions expressed at this meeting it became quite clear that the problem was indeed a very serious one and that it would require the most careful handling at the hands of leaders of both the communities who had assembled at the meeting. It was recognised that it would be necessary for the members to devote all the available time to the consideration of the problem. It was accordingly decided to hold meetings of the general body twice every day, at 11 a.m. in the morning and at 5 p.m. in the evening at the Municipal Corporation Hall.

As is generally known, members of the Bombay Citizens' Conciliation Committee are gentlemen holding responsible positions in the civic life of the city in general and of the different wards and localities in particular. This being so, members were naturally in touch with the happenings in their respective localities every day from hour to hour and were thus able to assist the meetings of the Committee by narrating the exact details of the happenings in different localities in the course of the day and making concrete and helpful suggestions as to how the situation could be improved.

At the first meeting each day held in the morning a resume of the previous day's happenings was given by members from different localities, and after a discussion of the various points a comprehensive plan for touring in the affected areas of the city was drawn up and certain groups of members present were allocated certain areas for this purpose.

Any suggestions made in the course of the meeting to which it was thought necessary to draw the attention of the authorities were accordingly communicated to the Commissioner of Police.

AFTER IT HAD SUBSIDED.

When the communal strife appeared to have abated somewhat the Committee decided to issue a manifesto under joint signatures of Hindu and Muslim leaders. The manifesto is reproduced in this report as an appendix. It must be said that it went a long way in easing the situation and in restoring confidence in the minds of the people. The next thing was to induce people to resume their normal activities and to go back to their daily pursuits. It was a task of unexpected and extraordinary difficulty. Members of the Committee went to various localities, talked to the Hindu and Muslim residents, made them fraternise and actually made them open their shops in their very presence.

A suggestion was made to the Committee that it would be better if a picket consisting of one influential member each from the Hindus and Muslims and one member of the European community were placed at some important points in the disturbed areas. This suggestion was adopted and ten pickets consisting of three members each were placed at different places in the disturbed areas. It was found that this experiment was successful in easing the situation.

NEW PRESIDENT.

Dr. Poonsey Meishri then moved the appointment of an influential working Committee for the next year with office-bearers which was agreed to. The new Mayor of Bombay automatically becomes the President of the Conciliation Committee.

Light refreshments were served at the conclusion of the function.

Separationists Disapprove
Governor's Move For
Reconsideration

RANGOON, April 8.

The following statement has been issued by Mr. U. Tun Aung Gyaw, a delegate to the Burma Round Table Conference, and Mr. U. Ba So, an ex-M.L.C., in connection with the Special Session of the Burma Legislative Council summoned by His Excellency the Governor.

"The doubts which lately had arisen in political circles of this Province as to the feasibility of otherwise of having a separate Council session to further reconsider the question of separation or federation for Burma, have been set at rest, by the recent announcement of His Excellency the Governor to hold a special session of the Burma Legislative Council on the 25th of April. Undoubtedly such a course of action was adopted by His Excellency in his sincere desire to seek the one definite way out of the political impasse in the country, though the majority of the politically minded people of the Province does not see the need for it.

"The White Paper and the recent assurances of Sir Samuel Hoare that 'the same subjects as in India are proposed to be reserved to the Governor, and the same special responsibilities as in India are to be imposed on the Governor-General or the Provincial Governors, as the case may be, will be imposed on the Governors,' had dispelled this ill-founded apprehension, and thereby rendered the incorporation of that proviso in the clause for separation no further necessary. Such being the case the present Burma Legislative Council stands committed to its original resolution without its proviso and it would be mere waste of time and money to call for a special session of the Council to decide an issue which had already been decided upon, for the Council could hardly go back on its own resolution.

"The only possible course open to further obtain and get at the true choice of the two alternative by Burma under the said circumstances would be not by remanding back the question to the present Burma Legislative Council, but by directing a fresh election to be held with issues clearly laid before the people or by ascertaining the will of the people by means of a plebiscite."—A.P.

CHELSEA'S SURPRISES WILL VICTORY OVER LEEDS

Londoners Put On Riot Of Goals In League Football Matches: England Beats Belgium In International Hockey

LONDON, April 8. The greatest surprise in to-day's football was Chelsea's victory over Leeds.

Londoners are probably out of danger area, while Arsenal have gone further ahead and now lead Sheffield Wednesday by three points.

In consequence of Stokes' defeat at the hands of Fulham and Spurs draw with Bradford City, there will be a thrilling end of the season struggle between Stokes and Spurs for championship.

At Stamford Bridge, attendance numbered 30,000. Gallacher was in excellent form and clever play of centre-forward pleased the crowd. Midway through half Oakland scored for pensioners from the edge of penalty area.

RIOT OF GOALS.

In the second half, Londoners put on a riot of goals. Mills increased lead with a fast ground shot, followed by Frost who was successful with a header from Oakland's centre. A few minutes later Gibson put the side further ahead, repeating the performance shortly thereafter with a header. Gallacher completed tally near the end.

At Huddersfield, 10,000 witnessed home team inflicting a crushing defeat on Wednesday. A few minutes after kick-off, Goodall scored from penalty, and McLean put the side further ahead scoring twice, first from Boot's centre.

On resumption Wednesday improved but to no purpose. McLean completed tally towards the end. Fifteen thousand were present at Liverpool.

Hodgson opened the account for Liverpool three minutes after kick-off from Barton's centre but P. Watson equalised. Wright obtained lead for visitors before change-over.

On resumption, Crawford equalised with shot from 25 yards range. Hodgson gave home-team lead netting from Barton's centre, increasing it himself a few minutes thereafter. P. Watson reduced lead on behalf of visitors towards the end.

DRAW AT TOTTENHAM.

Draw at Tottenham was witnessed by 35,000. The game was lively but Spurs were far below their usual form. Tom Barkas opened the account for visitors from close-in halfway through. The struggle developed on resumption between Spurs forwards and City defence in which Allen who was making the debut for Tottenham equalised close on time.

At Charlton there was the thrilling struggle between London bottom-dogs and the game resembled cup tie more than league match. Yardley and Boulter scored for Charlton within a few minutes but Barret reduced the lead from penalty. Blackwell again put home-team further ahead. In the second half Charlton were more purposeful while West Ham were disappointing.
